Jamestown Settlement

A museum of 17th-century Virginia, Jamestown Settlement tells the story of America’s first permanent English colony.

Exhibit Areas feature an indoor theater, exhibition galleries and outdoor living history in re-created settings. An introductory 23-minute docudrama film, 1607: A Nation Takes Root, is shown daily in the Robins Foundation Theater. The gallery exhibits explore political, social and economic conditions that led to English colonization, the history and culture of the Powhatan Indians, the cultural background of Africans in 17th-century Virginia and the colony’s turbulent first century as the capital of Virginia. In outdoor re-creations of a Powhatan Indian village, three ships – Susan Constant, Godspeed and Discovery – that brought 104 men and boys to Jamestown, and colonial fort, historical interpreters depict daily life of 17th-century Virginia. A seasonal riverfront discovery area explores Powhatan, English and African economic activities associated with water.

Yorktown Victory Center

A museum of the American Revolution, the Yorktown Victory Center chronicles America’s struggle for independence, from the beginnings of colonial unrest to the formation of the new nation.

Exhibit Areas include a timeline, indoor exhibition galleries and outdoor living history in re-created settings. “The Road to Revolution” timeline and exhibition galleries provide insight to the events that led to conflict between the American colonies and Britain, the war’s impact on ordinary men and women, military life, the convergence of forces at Yorktown in 1781, and the creation of the Constitution and Bill of Rights. An 18-minute film, A Time of Revolution, is shown in the Richard S. Reynolds Theater. In outdoor re-creations of a Continental Army encampment and a 1780s Tidewater farm, historical interpreters depict daily life of people during the Revolution. A children’s clothing try-on area also is available.

Hours of Operation: Jamestown Settlement and the Yorktown Victory Center are open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily (until 6 p.m. June 15 through August 15). Closed Christmas and New Year’s days. Allow at least two to three hours for your visit at Jamestown Settlement and two to three hours at the Yorktown Victory Center (although many visitors enjoy staying longer).

Supplies and Provisions: You’ll find an ample supply of period replicas, educational toys and games, gift and food items, books, souvenirs, and film for your camera in the gift shops at Jamestown Settlement and the Yorktown Victory Center. Jamestown Settlement’s café offers soups, sandwiches and beverages. Box lunches are available for pre-planned group visits. Picnic areas are located at both museums.

Special Arrangements: The museums are wheelchair accessible with the exception of the Jamestown Settlement ships. Strollers and wheelchairs are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Open-captioned versions of on-site films are shown daily, and assistive listening devices are available upon request for films and outdoor areas. Location: Jamestown, Williamsburg and Yorktown form the Historic Triangle, all linked by the Colonial Parkway and easily reached via interstates 95 and 64 and U.S. Route 17. Jamestown Settlement is on Route 31 South at Route 359, adjacent to Historic Jamestowne and just 10 minutes from Colonial Williamsburg. Take I-64 to Exit 234 (approaching from the west) or Exit 242A (approaching from the east). The Yorktown Victory Center is located on Route 1020 near the Colonial Parkway and Yorktown Battlefield. THE START OF COLONIAL AMERICA

1607

THE FIRST PERMANENT ENGLISH SETTLEMENT

Thirteen years before the Pilgrims landed in Massachusetts, a group of 104 English men and boys made a four-and-a-half-month voyage to Virginia, where they established a settlement on the banks of the James River. Their goal of making a profit from the resources of the New World for the Virginia Company’s shareholders in London quickly took a back seat to pure survival as they confronted the harsh realities of life in their new home.

DO MORE. SEE MORE. LEARN MORE.

At Jamestown Settlement, you’ll learn about the settlers’ many trials and adventures. Located adjacent to the original site, this expansive living-history museum offers full-scale re-creations of a Powhatan Indian village, three 1607 ships and colonial fort, and a seasonal riverfront discovery area.

EXPERIENCE OUR EXPANSIVE GALLERY AND FILM

An introductory film sets the stage for your visit with an overview of the first two decades of America’s first permanent English colony and the cultures that converged in early 17th-century Virginia. Expansive exhibition galleries explore Jamestown’s beginnings as a business venture, the impact of European colonization on Powhatan Indian culture, and the origins of the first known Africans in Virginia. You’ll see hundreds of artifacts from the period, among them portraits, documents, furnishings, ceremonial and decorative objects, tools and weapons. Three-dimensional life-size structures and small-theater presentations help bring the story to life.

PLAY AN ACTIVE ROLE IN HISTORY

Jamestown Settlement’s unique combination of exhibits and hands-on activities makes it the perfect destination for groups. Try your hand at grinding corn. Scrape an animal hide and weave natural fibers into cordage. Squeeze into a sailor’s bunk or steer a ship with a whipstaff or tiller. Learn how to navigate the seas. Watch a blacksmith work in his shop. And cover your ears as matchlock muskets fire inside the fort. History doesn’t get more active than this!
Yorktown Victory Center

Escort Notes

Witness

THE END OF COLONIAL AMERICA

1781

THE BIRTH OF AMERICA

On October 19, 1781, the decisive military campaign of the American Revolution culminated with the British surrender to combined American and French forces under the command of George Washington. The Siege of Yorktown effectively ended the six-year struggle for American independence and set the stage for a new government – and nation.

MAKE SOME HISTORY OF YOUR OWN

Now you can step into the boots of ordinary soldiers – and witness the Revolution’s end from their perspective. Located within musket range of the battlefield, the Yorktown Victory Center re-creates a Continental Army encampment, complete with sleeping quarters, supply tents, cooking fires and more. You can try on a military coat and hat, then participate in wooden-musket drills. Step into the quartermaster’s tent to discover the importance of managing supplies. You may even be recruited to join the cannon crew as they load and fire this replica weapon!

LISTEN TO THEIR WORDS

Gallery exhibits present the Declaration of Independence as a radical document that inspired decisive action and chronicle the Revolution through eyewitness accounts of those who were there. Learn about the three-week siege that ensured American independence and the final steps in America’s journey to nationhood with the development of the Constitution. Finally, explore the motivations for people coming to Virginia and how immigrants were changed and influenced by their new environment.

HEAD “HOME” TO A 1780s FARM

The Yorktown Victory Center also provides a glimpse at home life after the Revolution on a typical Tidewater Virginia farm. Your group can explore a re-created house and its separate kitchen, a tobacco barn and fenced crop fields. While you’re there, you can weed and water the gardens, comb cotton or “break” flax into fiber, and learn how herbs were used for cooking and medicinal purposes and smell the pungent odor of drying tobacco in the farm barn.

An American Revolution Chronology

1763 - The Treaty of Paris ended the Seven Years (French and Indian) War, with France giving up most claims to North American territory.

1764-70 - Britain imposed a series of taxes on the American colonies to help pay the war’s debts, but finally after protests and resistance from the colonists, repealed all but the tax on tea, which cannot be grown in North America.

1773 - The Tea Act gave the British East India Company a monopoly on sales. In December, Patriots dressed as Indians boarded ships in Boston harbor and dumped more than 300 chests full of tea overboard. The following March, Parliament passed the Boston Port Act, closing the harbor.

1774 - The First Continental Congress met and formed the Continental Association, an agreement calling on the colonies to stop all imports from Britain.

1775 - In April, British troops attempting to capture colonial military supplies exchanged gunfire with Massachusetts minutemen at Lexington and Concord. In June, the Battle of Bunker and Breed’s hills took place in Boston. George Washington was appointed commander-in-chief of the Continental forces, and Congress enacted the Articles of War.

1778 - France and the United States signed treaties of alliance and commerce.

1781 - American and French forces laid siege to the British army trapped at Yorktown, Virginia. This climactic military campaign of the Revolution concluded with the formal British surrender on October 19.

1783 - The final treaties ending hostilities were signed in Paris.

1788 - The Constitution went into effect in June after nine states ratified it. By December 15, 1791, 10 amendments, known as the Bill of Rights, had been ratified by enough states to make them part of the Constitution.

May 15-November 15: “Werowocomoco: Seat of Power” – Archaeological excavations at the site of Werowocomoco, the principal residence of the Indian leader who dominated Virginia’s coastal plain during the late 16th and early 17th centuries, have not only revealed that the site was a uniquely important place during Powhatan’s time, but also that its role as a political, social and perhaps spiritual center began before the Powhatan paramount chiefdom was created. This exhibit will explore the significance of the site of Werowocomoco as a physical expression of the political and social changes that were occurring within Powhatan society during the late prehistoric and early historic periods. Three major historical events—the planting of the first permanent English settlement at Jamestown in 1607, the fiery debates on revolution at Williamsburg and the climactic campaign of the American Revolution at Yorktown in 1781—took place just 20 miles apart on a single narrow peninsula between Virginia’s James and York rivers.

Today at Jamestown Settlement and Yorktown Victory Center living-history museums, you can see the exciting first and last chapters of America’s colonial history brought to life once more. And both are near Historic Jamestowne and Yorktown Battlefield and just minutes from Colonial Williamsburg, the well-known restored 18th-century capital of Virginia.
